How to Organize More Effectively for the Climate

ONLINE VIDEO sessions from 6:30-8:30 pm on 6 Tuesdays from May 5 through June 9

Each 2-hour session shares some of the smartest, most workable principles, strategies, methods and examples to help you build a much more effective nonviolent grassroots movement to make stronger progress solving the climate crisis.

The workshops can help people organize nonviolent grassroots movements for any issue. The group exercises for developing movement-building goals, strategies, outreach, messaging, etc., will focus on strengthening the climate movement.

Each session includes discussion and many practical handouts, which Glen will send you as attachments to e-mails. All six workshops are powerful and practical for experienced organizers and activists, as well as for people who are new to this.

Instead of focusing on technical scientific or economic information, these workshops will increase your skills and resources so you can organize more effectively for the climate.

Glen Anderson has conducted this series of workshops several times on other issues, and participants have found the workshops and handouts inspiring, informative, and practical.

Six engaging sessions offer powerful insights, practical methods, and useful handouts:

- #1 "The Power and Practicality of Nonviolence – What is Nonviolence?"
- #2 "How to Strategize and Organize Effective Grassroots Movements"
- #3 "Organizing 101: Basic Nuts & Bolts of Grassroots Organizing"
- #4 "Using Three Models to Devise Strategies to Strengthen the Climate Movement"
- #5 "Empowering the Climate Movement"
- #6 "How to Get Your Climate Message Out to the General Public"

Please sign up now – and plan to attend all six workshops from 6:30 to 8:30 pm every Tuesday from April 28 through June 2 ONLINE using Zoom video. Sign up and I'll send you the links for each week's workshop.

To help participants discuss well, we're limiting this to 15 persons. To register or ask questions, contact the facilitator, Glen Anderson (360) 491-9093 glanderson@integra.net, and I will tell you the location. If more than 15 want to participate – or if you are not available on Tuesday evenings – we can schedule this series again later.

I volunteer my time and provide the workshops and online handouts for free.

The facilitator has been volunteering for peace and social justice continuously since the 1960's – especially to organize strategically effective nonviolent grassroots movements for various issues.
