

To HELP the Poor People's Campaign, OPPOSE Nuclear Weapons

The Poor People's Campaign sees connections across many issues. Nuclear weapons hurt poor people in many ways.

In order to get the U.S. Senate's hawks to agree to a nuclear weapons treaty with Russia, Obama caved in to them and agreed to replace ALL of the U.S.'s nuclear weapons and ALL of the related missiles, bombers and submarines with horribly expensive new ones. This will cost much more than $1 TRILLION. Trump and the Republican Congress are enthusiastically supporting this. Paying for ALL new nuclear weapons will mean cutting much federal funding for poor people.

If nuclear weapons are used, poor people – along with everyone else – will be killed and disabled, and our communities will be utterly destroyed.

Nuclear weapons polarize “us vs. them.” Such polarization hurts poor people and people of color.

Native Americans have suffered from the uranium mining that has disproportionately occurred on their land.
